The PCL from 1924-1940 was very inconsistent. From year to year, newspaper articles would mention that a league was going to be formed. Some schools would even declare themselves the "Champions of Putnam County". However, the first documented and recognized PCL games were not played until the 1934-1935 season with Ottoville winning with a 10-0 record. Vaughnsville won the PCL the following year in 1936. From 1937-1940 the Putnam County schools had a plan to play each other, but there was no official PCL champion declared. In 1941 a two year plan was put together. Each school would play half the schedule in 1941 and the remaining games in 1942. Vaughnsville won this unique format with an overall record of 11-1. The PCL was dropped in 1943 and restarted again in 1944. A PCL champion has been determined every year since.
