Over 10,000 Games Played by Thousands of Players and Hundreds of Coaches

Nearly 10,000 games at 19 high schools have been played since 1910 in Putnam County by nearly 6,000 players and over 250 coaches. The list of coaches, players and season results are very accurate since the early 1940s.

However, in the early years from 1910-1940, it was difficult to find very many baseball games in comparison to basketball. This was true for several reasons. Many schools only played the scheduled league or PCL tournament games and the fields were not in very good shape. Mix in the wonderful spring weather of northwestern Ohio and it is understandable as to why so few games were played in the earlier years. In addition, even if games were played, the newspapers did not consistently report the scores.

The number of games played in Putnam County dramatically increased each decade from 1930 through the 2000's.

1930	18 games	9 schools
1940	39 games	13 schools
1950	67 games	13 schools
1960	92 games	12 schools
1970	116 games	9 schools
1980	175 games	9 schools
1990	162 games	9 schools
2000	191 games	9 schools
2010	216 games	9 schools
2021	229 games	9 schools

Remember, the early years were influenced by weather, poor facilities, scheduling and coaches doing multiple sports. In addition, even if games were played, many were not reported.

Here are a few examples that are typical of the early years. Ottoville's first recorded game was in 1933 and Louis W. Heckman seems to be the only coach from 1933-1951. The Big Green participated in the PCL and PCLT for each year, but only 27 league or tournament games were found. From 1923-1939, I can account for coaches for just two of the seasons at Kalida and only 29 games. From 1923-1942, only 22 games can be accounted for at Palmer/Miller City.

Another interesting statistic is the comparison of the "baby school" of Putnam County to the 'elders'. Ottawa-Glandorf has played nearly 1,000 games since 1965 but only Columbus Grove, Leipsic and Miller City have played more than 1,000 games even though these three schools started play in the early 1900's!

The Coaches

Previous to the 1970s, it was unusual for a school to play more than a dozen baseball games. It also was unusual for anyone to coach more than a few years at a time. As a result, the earlier coaches don't have the number of wins or years of coaching experience as the modern coaches do. During this era, the 'Coach' sometimes was in charge of football, basketball, boys and girls and spring baseball or track. It was not unusual for the coach to do baseball and track in the same season since so few games or meets were held.

When schools started to diversify the coaching duties and improving the baseball facilities, it was possible for more games to be scheduled and played.

New Trend at Columbus Grove

Bruce Rasor of Columbus Grove was the first coach in Putnam County to start playing games in addition to league and tournament. In his four years of coaching from 1972-1975, he coached 106 games. By comparison, Miller City played 70 games, Kalida 53 and Ottoville 67.

Gary Jones of Columbus Grove continued the trend by playing 166 games from 1976-1981. By comparison, Leipsic played 139 games, Miller City and Ottawa-Glandorf 125 respectively.

Columbus Grove averaged 27 games per season for this ten-year period. No other school in Putnam County played as many games, but they did start playing more and more each year.

Father verses Son

We have had two father/son coaching combinations in Putnam County. Larry McCullough, Jr. and his father, Larry McCullough, Sr. both coached at Pandora-Gilboa. The other one is Ted Miller of Leipsic and his son, Nick, who coached at Ottawa-Glandorf.
