Fall baseball was played by most of the high schools that did not have a football team. It was played from 1913-1973. The Putnam County Athletic Association formed a PCL from 1951-1964.

The PCL Champion was determined in one of two ways. One method was to split the league into two divisions and then have a playoff between the two winners. A second method was to put the members into one division and the champion was determined by the best record.
